

Final Methodology for the Independence Index of key public institutions in Moldova

Viorel Pirvan, IDIS "Viitorul", Moldova
Michal Piško, INEKO external expert, Slovakia

Updated in January 2020

Project

The methodology was created within the initiative “Supporting democracy, independence and transparency of key public institutions in Moldova”, implemented by IDIS "Viitorul", in partnership with the Institute for Economic and Social Reforms in Slovakia (INEKO). The initiative is implemented during October 2019 – March 2021 and it is financially supported by the Official Development Assistance of the Slovak Republic (SlovakAid). It aims to support public debate about current state of democracy in Moldova, to strengthen the independence of key regulatory and judiciary institutions, and to increase transparency and support implementation of anti-corruption measures in state-owned companies and local governments in Moldova.

Objective

Supporting public debate about degree of independence of key public institutions in Moldova and introduction of recommendations to increase their independence based on related Independence Index.

Activities

1. October 2019 – January 2020: Preparation of research on independence of key public institutions. By November 2019, writing and publishing an electronic document of at least 5 pages with a list of institutions and indicators to be evaluated including sources of information. By January 2020, writing and publishing an electronic document of at least 5 pages describing methodology of evaluation including ways of data collection, calculation of indices and timing.

2. January 2020 – September 2020: Realization of research on independence of at least 15 key public institutions: collection and processing of data for at least 10 indicators, consultations with at least 10 experts, evaluation of independence. Writing a draft document summarizing research results.
3. July 2020 – October 2020: Writing and publishing an electronic Report on independence of key public institutions in Moldova; document of at least 25 pages summarizing research results including the ranking of independence of evaluated institutions and at least 20 recommendations to increase their independence. Informing media via press report, the goal is to have at least 20 media releases.
4. October 2020: Organizing a conference in Chisinau with at least 50 participants informing about a Report on independence of key public institutions in Moldova as well as about results of financial health evaluation of local governments (municipalities and regions).

Methodology description

Independent and professional public institutions, protecting citizens from abuse of power by politicians and influential economic groups, are crucial for properly functioning democracy and reducing the level of corruption. These include regulatory and supervisory authorities, the central bank, police, prosecution or judicial authorities. However, especially in young democracies, there is a high risk of “State capture” through these institutions. The main objective of this project is to analyze the degree of independence of these institutions from government and to present recommendations for increasing their independence. The methodology is based on a similar project, which has been successfully implemented in Slovakia. The evaluation of independence will focus on criteria such as sovereignty in the decision-making, financial independence, dismissals and selection procedures of the governing bodies in these institutions.
