

Foreword

Publications produced by IDIS „Viitorul” represent a synthesis of the most important investigations and studies elaborated by our team members through the materialization of their efforts made in 2011 in a effective, collegial and mutual collaboration with the civil society, business communities and government institutions from Moldova. In the last period, the European integration process represented a national priority in economic, social, political and administrative sector. In this context, IDIS “Viitorul” has brought its own contribution to accomplish national priorities by conducting numerous studies, surveys, investigations and projects. In a world full of discontinuities we want to believe that IDIS “Viitorul” represents a continuity of those ideas and ideals that were set 19 years ago at the foundation of our institution. Consequently, the results of our team come to support our country’s priority positions and Moldovan society preparations to connect to principles, values and standards of the European Union. For achieving the institutional mission, IDIS “Viitorul” collaborates effectively with donor and funding organizations as: the European Commission, UNDP, LGI / OSI, Soros-Moldova, CIPE, Open Society Foundations - OSF, the East European Foundation, Hans Seidel Foundation, UNICEF, UNIFEM, NED, the European Training Foundation, VNG International, German Marshall Fund, PASOS, AGORA, COE, etc.

We remark with pleasure the progress registered by the most experts of IDIS “Viitorul”, the outstanding level of a large number of studies, researches and projects with a great socio-economic, political and administrative impact for our country. In essence, we have the satisfaction of recording a significant progress in strengthening our research area (economics, sociology, regional development, public administration, European integration, energy efficiency, energy security, etc.), in projects implementation being found areas with a great social impact (education, training, public finance, local development, health, etc.).

Implemented projects, conducted studies, debates held and all the ideas promoted by IDIS “Viitorul” are meant to raise awareness of the acute problems of our society, to professionalize the public administration, to direct the political class to the country priorities, to stimulate innovative behavior of economic agents, especially those from economic sectors of national importance, pointing the attention that the continuous effort, the profound and modern knowledge, innovative ideas and the desire to change things for the better in terms of effective governance focused on European values are the largest value-added suppliers in human and economic-financial point of view. To achieve this purpose, are needed concrete measures and a unification of efforts of all public institutions concerned with such issues, the entire civil society and the private sector representatives, stimulating, in this way, the competitiveness of ideas for achieving the primary goal, that to ensure a qualitative level of living and civilization.
